

Ashland County Solid Waste Management District

Environmental Education Services Request

The Ashland County Solid Waste Management District (District) is responsible for providing education and awareness to its residents, businesses and school age children on solid waste and recycling topics and curriculum. The District uses the “Windows on Waste” curriculum to guide presentations on recycling, waste reduction and reuse strategies for solid waste management.

To aide in providing these environmental education services, interested parties can complete the following environmental education services request form. Once completed and submitted, the District’s Environmental Educator will reach out to schedule the requested service:
